

Seamen Snub WSB Hearing; Owners Plead For Reversal

By MAX HALL.
Washington, Sept. 10 (AP)—Striking AFL seamen snubbed a Wage Stabilization Board hearing today as owners of idle merchant fleets pleaded for the right to pay them more money.

J. B. Bryan, president of the Pacific American Shipowners association, urged the Board to reverse its ruling on seamen's wages which touched off a strike that has paralyzed all American ports.

The White House remained silent. Reporters asked Charles G. Ross, press secretary, whether President Truman "is sending any message over to the Wage Stabilization Board." He replied "No." He gave a similar response when asked if there was any word at the White House on the maritime strike.

Conference Called
Mr. Truman arranged a mid-afternoon conference with top army and navy advisors but Ross said "No, I think not" when asked if it had anything to do with the shipping strike. Invited to the conference were Secretaries Forrestal, navy, and Patterson, war, and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Chief of Staff, and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, Chief of Naval Operations.

Forrestal said the President yesterday but said later they had not talked about the strike.

Bryan told the Stabilization Board that if it holds to its present position "before we know it we're going to have two more strikes on our hands, possibly the marine firemen and the marine cooks and stewards."

Merchant Fleet Idle
As the Board opened its hearing, no representatives of the striking AFL seamen were on hand. Their leaders apparently were going through with their plan to remain away.

GIRL RESERVES BEING CHANGED TO "Y-TEENS"

Reorganization of the Girl Reserve clubs of the local YWCA as "Y-Teen" clubs was announced Monday afternoon at the first meeting of the YW board since June.

Mrs. J. P. Rhoads, chairman of the teen-age program for the Gettysburg Young Women's Christian association, in announcing adoption of the new name for the Girl Reserves, said that the annual membership drive of the organization will begin within the next week or ten days with a Snack party at the YW.

The change of the name to "Y-Teens" was made official by the National Board of the YWCA last week. Mrs. Rhoads added, at the request of many teen-age and adult members in the 325 registered YWCA clubs and 434 community associations where the Girl Reserve program has been sponsored since 1918.

Trend to Co-ed Activities

For many years members felt that the name Girl Reserves did not adequately describe the program the agency offers for teen-age boys and girls, she said. The former name did not take into consideration the increasing number of boys participating in the program due to increased co-ed activities and did not indicate a relationship with the YW. There has been an increased trend in recent years to make the program more coeducational, Mrs. Rhoads said.

New publications, symbols and group insignia will be introduced with the beginning of this fall's activities, she said.

Serving with Mrs. Rhoads on the committee in charge of the Y-Teen activities are Mrs. Dorothy Jean Whitson, Miss Grace Waltemeyer, Mrs. Norman Richardson, Miss Helen Keefeauver, Mrs. James Martin, Miss Sarah Jane Maust, Miss Ruth Bushman and Miss Emily Lee.

Secretary Resigns

Other activities of the YWCA board at its meeting Monday included the acceptance of the resignation of Mrs. John E. Sanderson as secretary. The resignation, given because the Sanderson family has moved from Gettysburg, was accepted with regret.

A new secretary will be named by the president, Mrs. Richard A. Brown, before the next meeting it was decided. Mrs. Charles W. Ogden acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Sanderson.

Reports were presented by Mrs. Wayne M. Keet for the house committee; Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler for the finance committee; Mrs. Guile W. Lefever for the personnel committee and Mrs. John Teeter for the Rotary committee.

Mrs. H. S. Fox had charge of devotions on the theme, "The Badge of Christian Fellowship."

FEW VETERANS LACK JOBS IN ADAMS COUNTY

Adams county's World War II veterans are disproving reports that ex-GIs are taking advantage of the "52-20 club" and simply loafing as long as they can obtain the $20 a week checks from the government under the GI bill of rights unemployment compensation plan, a study of the records at the local United States Employment Service office today disclosed.

The county, with only 140 veterans now obtaining jobs pay has one of the lowest number of vets in the 52-20 club in the country. E. A. Crouse, manager of the local USES office, asserted. Neighboring Franklin county has 527 vets receiving compensation.

Most of the veterans now obtaining the $20 each week will drop from the rolls around the beginning of October, Manager Crouse said. While there was no way of definitely telling just how many would be getting the aid by October, Crouse said that "going way out on a limb I wouldn't be surprised if the number dropped to 25 by that time."

93 Placed In Month
Most of the men receiving the aid now are former GIs who plan to attend school this fall and are unable to find short term jobs to carry them through for the few weeks until school begins. Many of the 140 are out of the county men planning to attend Gettysburg college who arrived here during the last month.

During the last month the local office set an all time high by placing 93 veterans. A total of 316 placements, 160 of them women, were made during August by the local USES.

With jobs more plentiful than in some time, the USES office found placements for two of the county's handicapped veterans during the month.

Plenty of Jobs Now

The county's canneries provided many of the jobs opened during August and this month placement should reach a new all-time high if present hiring continues, Crouse said. Already nearly 200 have been placed in jobs this month.

Crouse added that there is a great demand for women to work in the canneries and that many men are also needed. "We can almost immediately place nearly everyone who comes to us at the present time," he said. How long that condition will last was not known however.

KEEFAUVER IS SPEAKER FOR LIONS CLUB

Reviewing the requirements for membership in Lions clubs, Dr. L. C. Keefeauver, member of the local service club, told 62 members and guests Monday evening at the first "in town" meeting for the fall season: "You're pretty good citizens of our community or you wouldn't be in the club."

Speaking on "Lionism," Doctor Keefeauver traced briefly the growth of Lions clubs from their formation in 1917 to the present strength of nearly 5,000 clubs and more than 200,000 members in the United States and a dozen other countries.

Pointing out that the club's name is derived from an alliteration of its slogan: "Liberty, Intelligence, Our Nation's Safety," the speaker distributed printed copies of the objects and the code of ethics of Lions International. He also reviewed briefly important sections of the constitution of the local club.

Ladies' Night Next Week
The Lions made arrangements for a Ladies' Night meeting next Monday at Mt. Joy Lutheran parish house at 6:30 p. m. Past President Glenn L. Bream will be host to the local clubmen and their ladies at another ladies' night meeting now tentatively set for October.

President Milton R. Remmel presided at Monday's meeting at the Shetter House and handed a new member's pin to his son-in-law, Ralph Barley, who was received as a "cub" at the meeting.

Guests present included Clyde Cole and Leroy Bloomingdale, new members of the coaching staff at Gettysburg college; Glenn Little, taximan; Col. Alfred A. McKenney, new ROTC commandant at the college; Ivan Mechtley, New Oxford Lions club secretary, and Lion Myers of Newark, N. J.

VFW MEETING WEDNESDAY
Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 15, of Gettysburg will meet in regular session at the post home on Carlisle street Wednesday evening. Commander William Eckenrode urged all officers and members to attend the meeting, as important business will be discussed relating to the newly-acquired beverage license.

State To Replace Old Covered Bridge

The state Department of Highways has advertised for bids for the construction of a modern steel I-beam bridge over Bermudian creek in Latimore township. It will replace an old covered bridge that is in bad repair and which is now limited to the use of light traffic.

This will be the second covered bridge in the county to be replaced this year by the state with a modern steel and concrete structure. The state already has let a contract for the building of a new bridge across Rock creek just above the Maryland line, replacing the longest covered bridge in the county.

The Latimore township span will measure about 65 feet and will involve the construction of .19 miles of macadam road on the bridge approaches. The new bridge will not be on the exact location of the present span.

DUTCH FAMILY GIVES THANKS FOR CLOTHING

A Dutch family who received a package of used clothing including a girl's dress donated last spring in a local clothing drive by Mrs. Ruth A. Hartzell, Lincolnway west, has written its thanks for the gifts and to express gratitude "that there are also people far away who think of us."

The letter, written in mid-August was received last week by Mrs. Hartzell. It came from J. C. Berghage, Annastraat 4, Oosterbeek, Holland.

The letter follows:

"Dear Friends

"In the division of the goods that have been sent to Holland, we came into the possession of the small parcel. We wish to express our thanks and we are glad for it. The gift sent fits our oldest daughter very well.

"We have three daughters, the oldest 4, the middle one 2 years, and the baby 6 months old. You understand well that we need very much for them. We are grateful that there are also people far away who think of us.

"We hereby include a picture of the two oldest girls and the third girl is our neighbor's. This photo was taken in July, 1946.

"What a fine idea of yours to include your address, because what we get we are thankful for and think it is nice to thank the donor for the gift.

"We hope that you receive this letter while enjoying perfect health. With kindest regards, Fam. J. C. Berghage."

The letter was written in Dutch. Dr. Albert Bachman of the Gettysburg college faculty made the translation.

Following a box lunch the evening session will start at 7 o'clock with devotions led by the Ardentsville high school CE and special music will be provided by Pvt. Robert DeGroft, of Camp Lee, Va., and Littlestown. A trio from the Gardner CE society will present a number of vocal selections.

Speaker for the evening will be Paul Hurley, southeast central district president, who will speak on "The Great Adventure."

A total of 122 cases were handled by the home service section of the Adams County Red Cross during August, the county chapter announced today. Christianity Will Be Factor In World Peace Declares Dr. A. R. Wentz

"If Christianity cannot be brought to bear on world problems within the next decade then western civilization is due for destruction in World War III," Dr. A. R. Wentz, president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, told the local Rotary club Monday evening at its regular meeting in the YWCA.

"However," he added, "I believe that it can and will be done. We have the machinery now to put Christ into the conduct of nations."

That machinery, he pointed out, was the recently organized committee of the World Council of churches which is seeking to "channel Protestant, Catholic and Jewish thought on world problems to the authorities who are engaged in solving those problems."

The permanent committee set up at Cambridge, England, at a meeting several weeks ago will have the job, Doctor Wentz said, of "determining the attitude of religious people on world problems and also of determining in advance what the major world problems are and to let the people of the world know in advance of action by politicians what the problems are going to be."

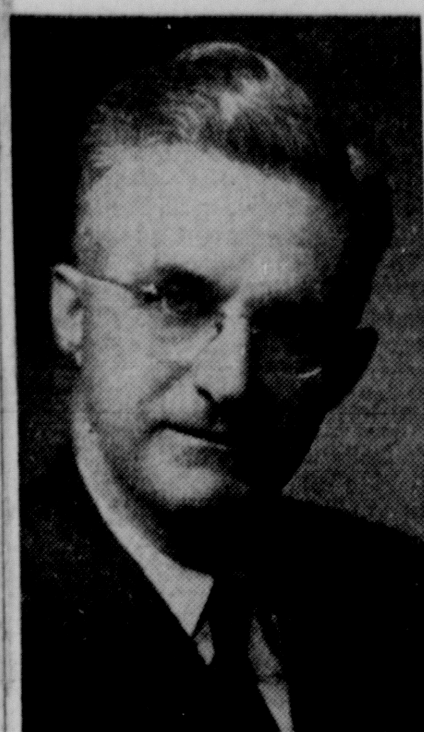

Powerful Forces

"The moral and spiritual forces are the most powerful thing in the world today," Doctor Wentz pointed out. "The Nazi and the Japanese governments scoffed at those influences and as a result were destroyed. The Christian people of the world brought their great influence to bear at the San Francisco conference where the United Nations was formed. And that influence can be all-powerful. While there are many differences between Catholic, and Protestant and Jew there are many fields in world affairs where the three see eye-to-eye on the solution to the problems. It is that field that the permanent commission will work."

Describing his recent trip to Europe the local seminary head and world church official told of two experiences which, he said, typified the condition of the world today.

Finns Paying Debt

Traveling into the far north of Finland, toward the Arctic circle, he found that daylight extended through 24 hours. On the flight home from Ireland to Newfoundland he found that five hours had been added to the night. "They were the longest day and the longest night I have ever spent," he said.

DR. A. R. WENTZ

"Much of Europe's present condition can be described by those contrasts. In some places there are favorable signs of new life and rehabilitation. In other parts there are lengthening shadows and deepening darkness."

Inflation is starting in America, the Lutheran educator added, stating that in some countries the American dollar is falling in its exchange rate with the other country's monetary system. "Since there is no evidence of a strengthening of the European money it can only mean an inflation of American money."

Finland, he said, "is very poor, but with typical Finnish thoroughness the country is pulling in its belt and will pay off the Russian (Continued on Page 2)

ELKS RECEIVE AWARD MONDAY

In recognition of having contributed its full quota to the Elks War Fund, Gettysburg Lodge No. 1045, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, was presented with an engraved certificate of appreciation here Monday night.

Exalted Ruler George L. Bushman received the certificate on behalf of the lodge from H. Earl Pittzer, trustee of the Pennsylvania State Elks association and Elks War Commission representative, at a meeting held at the lodge home.

The War Fund is made up of voluntary contributions by members of the order and is used to render aid and comfort to members of the armed forces, as well as to help carry on other activities stemming from the war.

Services Rendered

Among the activities carried on through the Elks War Fund, which is administered by the Elks War Commission headed by James R. Nicholson, and supplemented by efforts of the individual lodges are: Establishment of 155 fraternal centers at which service men and women of the Allied nations were fed, housed and entertained; a program of hospital entertainment in 300 military and veterans' hospitals in 42 states; recruitment of Naval Seabees, Army Engineers, Naval and Army Air Cadets and Army Air Corps mechanic personnel; collection of material and manufacture of 150,000 pairs of slippers for veterans' hospitals and one million books for the Merchant Marine.

Plans for the annual retreat of the Adams County Christian Endeavor society were announced today. The program will be held Sunday, September 15, at Camp Nakwakwa.

Dr. Wentz Survives More "Close Calls"

Dr. A. R. Wentz, president of the local seminary, is rapidly gaining a reputation as the community's "narrow escape" veteran.

Since his escape from a Chicago hotel fire several months ago, he has had two more narrow escapes, he revealed in a talk Monday night before Rotary.

In Sweden, forgetting that the Swedish traffic operates on the left hand side of the road he was caught between two trolley cars while crossing a street and while tossed about by the two cars was uninjured.

Then on his way home his plane had just taken off from Newfoundland when one of its engines cut out, throwing the ship out of control temporarily. It landed safely however.

Washington, Sept. 10 (AP)—Undersecretary of State William L. Clayton said today that Yugoslavia has tentatively agreed to the principle of paying an indemnity for the loss of five American lives in the forced crashes of two American planes last month.

The first fellowship hour on a community basis will be held in October with Justin Lawrie as teacher.

The new religious fellowship program was one of a number of activities for the Methodist church announced today by the Rev. Floyd Carroll, pastor, and members of the official board of the church.

Increased emphasis on visual education in the form of more sound motion pictures on religious themes was promised. This month the church is presenting a sound motion picture each Sunday evening as part of the outlined program of activities for the year.

In November the Grantham Bible school choir will sing here and another musical program is scheduled for January. Speakers through the year will include a rabbi, outstanding laymen, and bishops and preachers of other denominations than the Methodist.

The objectives of the church as outlined by the pastor and board for the coming year included an increase of 50 members, a 10 per cent increase in church and church school attendance, attendance by 10 of the young people of the parish at a standard leadership training school and attendance by 30 young people at a summer church camp.

reparations in six years or so. The people are almost starving themselves and sending everything they have to Russia to pay off the reparations.

Church Not Oppressed
"The church in Russian satellite countries is not being oppressed," Doctor Wentz declared. "The reports we received from the church officials of those countries at the conference disclosed that the Russians allow the church to go ahead as it will. However the desperate poverty of the people is reflected in poverty for the church."

"Switzerland and Sweden are the best off of the countries in Europe. England is definitely showing the effects of two long wars. During my stay in England I had to eat what the rest of the English have to eat and I was hungry all of the time."

"Yet one cannot help but admire the English. Even while I was there the English went on even shorter rations in order to send food to the people of Europe who are worse off than they. If we talk at the idea of sending some small share of our tremendous supplies to help the people of Europe then we do not deserve the name of Americans."

Two New Members

Ward Stallsmith, a member of the local club who recently spent several weeks in Mexico told of meetings of the Mexico City Rotary club where "they even attempt to put you at a table where your native language is spoken. The Rev. Robert M. Hunt and William G. Weaver were introduced as new members of the club, which had a 100 per cent attendance record for the session. While all members were not present, President Chester N. Gitt explained, those not present had made arrangements to attend Rotary meetings elsewhere this week.

NATIONAL RACE REACHES STAGE OF DO-OR-DIE

By RALPH RODEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

The do or die stage for the St. Louis Cardinals and the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National league pennant race gets underway today with the Red Birds beginning a 13-game road trip at Philadelphia while the Dodgers entertain the Cincinnati Reds.

The American league's eastern clubs take their last journey through the west with the pace-setting Boston Red Sox needing only to defeat the Detroit Tigers today to clinch their first pennant since 1918.

Leading the Dodgers by two games, the Cards will play the Phils twice and then invade Flatbush for a three-game series.

Dodgers At Home

With the exception of three games at Boston, the Dodgers play the remainder of their 17 games at home. The Cards have only five games left to play at Sportsman's park in St. Louis.

Brooklyn hurling, paced by Rookie Joe Hatten and Veteran Kirby Higbe, and the return to form of Pete Reiser, have increased the Brooks' confidence in their chances of overhauling the Red Birds.

In their last four games, Brooklyn pitchers have gone the distance. Only once previously this season have Dodger hurlers gone the route four straight times.

The Red Birds pitching staff has fallen off somewhat, with Howie Pollet and Murry Dickson hit exceptionally hard in their last outings. Pollet, winner of 18 games, has been ill. The Red Bird hitters are enjoying some of their biggest days of the season at the plate.

Ehoss (Country) Slaughter has taken a commanding lead in the run-batted-in department, and Stan Musial continued to pace the league in batting.

Phils Beat Giants

In the only game in either league yesterday, the Philadelphia Phillies nosed out the New York Giants, 5-4 under the lights at Philadelphia.

Charley Gilbert broke up the game in the ninth by singling in Andy Seminick from second. Del Ennis clouted a three-run first inning homer off Rookie Sheldon Jones to send the Phils off to a 3-0 lead. The Phils entered the ninth leading 4-1, but the Giants staged a scoring spree in which pinch-hitter Ernie Lombardi made a homerun.

Charley Schanz went the route for the Phils while Woody Abernathy and Gene Thompson followed Jones to the hill for the Giants.

Pitching Duel In Eastern Loop

(By The Associated Press)

A duel between two pitchers who set new eastern league records appears in prospect tonight as the champion Scranton Miners tangled with the Wilkes-Barre Barons at Scranton in the opener of their best four in seven semi-final governors' cup playoff.

The Albany Senators meet the Hartford Chiefs in the other semi-final opening game.

Manager Elmer Yoter of the Miners has given the nod for tonight to Tommy Fine, righthander whose record of 23 games won and three lost set a new won and lost percentage mark for the league. His opponent for the third place Barons was expected to be Lefty Bob Kuzava, who had a new league strikeout record, fanning 219 batters.

Get Gannett Trophy

A feature of the opening game will be the presentation to Scranton of the Frank E. Gannett trophy, emblematic of the league championship. Len Wilber, sports editor of the Utica Press and the Observer Dispatch will make the presentation.

Meanwhile, President Tom McCaffrey of Albany announced the sale of four pitchers, Needham, Royce Lint, Peter Gebrian and Stan Perrek, to Indianapolis of the American Association. Both clubs are Pittsburgh national league clubs affiliates.

Tonight's playoff games: (Eastern Daylight Time) Wilkes-Barre at Scranton and Hartford at Albany.

Rodney Loses 1st, Wins 2 At Reading

Reading, Pa., Sept. 10 (P)—R. Horance Johnston's Rodney, sired by Spence Scott, 1941 Hambletonian winner, sped to an easy victory in the last two heats to annex the feature $2,405 futurity for two year old trotters at the opening of the five day grand circuit meeting at the Reading fair yesterday.

Rodney, beaten in only one heat this season, prior to yesterday recorded his second defeat in the opening heat when Nymph Hanover triumphed. Rodney's major triumphs include the national stake at Old Orchard, Me., and the Tompkins Memorial at Goshen, N. Y.

Hester Scott by Scotland, owned by Milky Way stables, Rockville, N. Y., won the 2:17 pace although losing the final heat to follow Tip driven by Earle Thomas, Harrington, Del. The fastest heat time was 2:09.

Arthur Hanover, owned by Edward Conrad, Mt. Clair, N. J., won the twenty class pace although los-

Two Philly Teams Pick Up Rookies

Philadelphia, Sept. 10 (P)—The Philadelphia Phils and the Athletics have picked up two likely rookies for their 1947 teams.

The Phils acquired shortstop Eddie Jones, former Bennettsville, S. C. player who was a top hitter in the Palmetto league this summer.

The A's signed Ed (Buck) Boehm, 21-year-old outfielder on the Pacific coast league's San Diego team. Neither purchase price was disclosed.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

Springfield, N. J., Sept. 10 (P)—Capt. Cary Middlecoff, one guy who apparently doesn't think that shooting par is harder than pulling teeth, doesn't agree with the folks who think he can belt a golf ball a mile . . . After trying for the lead in the national amateur qualifying round, Middlecoff remarked: "They say I'm a long hitter but Skeel Riegel was consistently out-driving me."

Then, when Howard Everitt came along late in the day to tie Middlecoff for the lead, Cary grinned "here I thought I was a big operator and you had to come along."

Riegel, an Upper Darby, Pa., boy who went west to attain golfing fame, says that "Skeel" really is his name although it sounds more like winter sport than the mid-summer pastime of golf . . . Speaking of names, how about a parlay on Skeel Riegel and Smiley Quick? . . . The 69 and 70 they carded yesterday would pay off at a pretty good price.

NOT-SO-HANDY ANDY

Andy Anderson of Oklahoma City, this department's favorite golfer because he doesn't take the game too seriously, almost set a championship record yesterday in his first appearance in the big tourney. . . Andy belted three drives out of bounds from the first tee and scored 10-9, ten strokes over par, for the first two holes . . . Then he rimmed the cup shooting for a double eagle on the 18th . . . Some of the oldtimers remembered, however, that in the 1926 amateur, Bob Gardner did exactly the same thing off the same tee—three out of bounds and a ten. He failed to qualify . . . The U.S.G.A. record for courage still belongs to a pro, Ray Ainsley, who took 17 strokes on one hole at Denver's Cherry Hills club, and kept on playing.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Smiley Quick still is troubled with a twitch in one leg, an aftermath of bombings in the Pacific. Plenty of golfers would settle for the same affliction—and the same scores . . . Rutgers, the nearest football center to this golf course, is bothered with a surplus of material like most other colleges. After the first drill, coach Harvey Harman cut 14 men off his squad because there wasn't enough equipment. The next afternoon more than 14 new candidates showed up . . . Michigan State U. is planning a 12-game southern baseball trip next spring. The Spartans won nine straight this year and as a result John Kobs wants to card the longest tour in his 17 years of coaching.

ALL IS CHAOS

Ted Mann and his colleagues at the Duke U. athletic office still are trying to puzzle this one out . . . A would-be ticket buyer sent a letter to "Duke athletic department, Chapel Hill, N. C.," asking for two tickets to the Duke-Alabama game. . . The catch is that Duke is located at Durham and its bitterest rival, North Carolina U., at Chapel Hill. . . And neither team has a game scheduled with Alabama this year.

Penn Squad Starts Training At Hershey

Hershey, Pa., Sept. 10 (P)—Sixty-three university of Pennsylvania football candidates—the largest squad in Coach George Munger's nine years at Penn—turned out today for the first full day's grid practice.

The prospects, who arrived here yesterday, will work out twice daily until Sept. 25 when they will return to Philadelphia in preparation for the opening of the collegiate season, Munger said.

Munger, who sizes the prospects up as the "nucleus for a very good team" said the '46 Penn team "should be better than any since 1940."

Says Vets Have "Spirit To Win"

Philadelphia, Sept. 10 (P)—Ex-G.I.'s who are turning out for this season's grid teams are making the duties of a football coach today a lot easier, says Temple university's Coach Ray Morrison.

The veterans, says the Temple grid mentor, developed the spirit to win while in service. Now they're carrying it into the game and imbuing younger players with the same spirit. That takes some of the work off the shoulders of the coach, Morrison explained.

ing the second heat to Princemir, owned by J. H. Black, Seaview, Va. The best mile was 2:13 in the opening heat.

SCORES OF 68 TIE IN AMATEUR

By BILL KOZUSKO

Springfield, N. J., Sept. 10 (P)—An army dentist and a Philadelphia broker who got in as an alternate shared the driver's seat today as the 46th annual national amateur golf championship spun the turn into the last half of its qualifying play.

For Howard Everitt of the Manufacturers club of Philadelphia, the 68 he fired on the Baltusrol golf club's 6,686-yard lower course yesterday was a particularly bright spot in his links career and it was just as happy an occasion for Woody Platt of Philadelphia, who withdrew from the tourney to give Everitt his chance.

Platt decided that at 49 he should give a younger player an opportunity and that was all Everitt, 30-year-old Pennsylvania state amateur king, needed. Although he had to win a three-hole playoff to become first alternate in the Philadelphia district qualifying round, Everitt has found Baltusrol well to his liking.

Hot Like Weather

He blazed a pair of 69's in practice rounds and then got as hot as the weather yesterday to post his four-under-par tally that put him on a level with Capt. Cary Middlecoff, north and south champ from Memphis, Tenn., and a heavy pre-tourney favorite, for the first 18 holes of the medal competition.

Tom Stephenson of Kansas City, Smiley L. Quick, public links titlist from Inglewood, Calif., and Dick Chapman, 1940 national amateur winner, were the only others to come in with below 72 figures.

Stephenson and Quick grabbed off 70's and Chapman, from Mamaronck, N. Y., was a stroke back of them.

Ten others were all even at par totals including Frank (Muscles) Stranahan, western amateur champion from Toledo, O., and one of those who also figure very prominently among early tournament predictions.

Defending Champion Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, Wash., trailed along with a 75 because he had trouble finding the fairways with his tee shots on the incoming nine.

Former State Champs Lead Women's Field

Philadelphia, Sept. 10 (P)—Three former state champions led a field of 78 entrants into the match play rounds of the 10th annual Pennsylvania women's golf championship today at Whitmarsh Valley Country club.

Defending Champion Betty Abernethy of Pittsburgh's Oakmont Country club, shared medal honors yesterday in the 18-hole qualifying round with Helen Sigel, Philadelphia, 1940 champion, and Mrs. Norman Lack, Wilmington, Del., 1933 winner. Fans Queue Up To Send Money For Series Seats eclipsed all of wartime's cigarette, butter and Nylon queues as they flooded postal and telegraph offices with applications for Red Sox World Series tickets during the hours just before and after the midnight deadline.

Boston, Sept. 10 (P)—New England's rabid baseball fans

Boston's main post office was jammed with persons of both sexes and all ages, each eagerly gripping a stamped-in-advance envelope containing a money order or certified check for $12.25 for a pair of the 25,000 reserved seats that will be available for each game at Fenway park.

The same conditions prevailed at every other postal station in the city, as well as at the main telegraph office and all of that company's branches. And the streets leading to such places were choked with mile-long lines of automobiles.

Club officials in newspaper advertisements, had given ample warning that no application would be considered if postmarked or wired before 12:01 a. m. this morning.

RESTAURANT BURNS

Harrisburg, Sept. 10 (P)—Van's Colonial Park restaurant on the outskirts of Harrisburg was destroyed by fire last night with a loss estimated by the proprietor, John A. Vanderslice, at $50,000. Two firemen suffered minor injuries.

Referee Stops Bout In Fourth

Allentown, Pa., Sept. 10 (P)—Joe Baski, Kulpmont, Pa., scored a technical knockout over former Portuguese light heavyweight champion Agostinho Guedes, Palmerton, Pa., last night after cutting Guedes so badly over the left eye that a physician halted their 10 round bout at the end of the fourth.

The bout drew 6,187 fans who paid a gross gate of $15,634.50—the largest in the history of Lehigh valley boxing.

BODY FOUND

Utica, N. Y., Sept. 10 (P)—The body of a woman identified by state troopers as Mrs. Joseph L. Downey, 23, of Schenectady, missing since last Tuesday, was found Sunday in the trunk compartment of her automobile in a garage of a summer camp near Oneida Lake, 20 miles from here. Onondaga county coroner Preston Clark withheld a decision pending an autopsy.

FIREWATCHERS

Mountain Lake, Minn., (P)—So many Mountain Lake residents enjoyed "a good fire" that firemen protested to the village council that on-lookers interfered with their work. The council ruled spectators must remain at least one block from the scene of a fire, or pay fines.

Softball League To Meet Tonight

All teams of the Community Softball league are requested to have representatives present at the final meeting of the season which will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the fire engine house.

Perry And Kovacs Win Doubles Title

Pittsburgh, Sept. 10 (P)—Fred Perry and Frank Kovacs ran true to form in winning the doubles championship of the professional masters tennis tournament here, defeating Welby Van Horn and Bobby Riggs, 6-2, 6-4, 3-6 and 9-7 yesterday.

Perry and Kovacs were seeded No. 1 and their opponents were ranked second. Because of rain, the finals were played indoors, before a small crowd of 400.

When Carter met his wife and two teen-age daughters on their return from a Florida flight he found several patches on his plane. Daughters Mary and Sue explained they had an argument with a gas pump in Wyoming, a forced landing in Idaho—and an encounter with a bull in Florida.

Peoria, Ill., (P)—Marshall Pressley, 87, never would have anything to do with automobiles, but lately he has been handicapped by an injured leg. He says he's been offered $200 for the contraption.

THE FURNACE COIL

IS A COAL THIEF

Most people who put up with antiquated furnace coil hot water systems do so because they think they are getting hot water for nothing. Actually, they are paying more for hot water than they would if they switched to a modern, fully automatic Gas water heater.

HERE'S WHY—

THE FURNACE HEATS WATER INSTEAD OF YOUR HOUSE

The furnace coil is installed in the fire box, between the fire and the heat transfer surface of the furnace. The heat heats the water in the furnace coil first. Only heat that gets past the furnace coil heats your house.

DECREASES FURNACE EFFICIENCY BY 20%

Heating contractors know that a furnace coil is a coal thief. The heating contractor always specifies a 20% larger furnace if a furnace coil is to be installed.

EVERY FIFTH SHOVEL OF COAL HEATS WATER

During winter months it is estimated that one out of every five shovels of coal goes to heat water in the furnace coil. Hold your hand next to the range boiler. The boiler, full of hot water, acts as a large radiator in your basement where heat is not needed. Coal is being wasted.

INSTALL AN AUTOMATIC GAS WATER HEATER

Don't put up with an unpredictable hot water supply. Switch to Gas. Fully automatic, you are always certain of a plentiful supply of hot water, any time of the year, every hour of the day, at just the temperature you want.

Ask your Gas Appliance Dealer or visit your Gas Company office and discover how little it costs to install and operate a Gas water heater.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Local Miscellany: There were 500 people on Thursday's excursion to Baltimore.

Four hundred and thirty-five pupils have entered the public schools this term already. In the primary department, taught by Miss Alice Powers, there are 72 pupils.

Mr. E. H. Minnigh is laying a new concrete pavement at his house on Chambersburg street.

Mr. Philip Hennig, of this place, has our thanks for a lot of peaches, raised on the Swisher farm. They were large and had a fine flavor.

The Cigar Makers Union picnic, in John Rife's Grove, near McSherrytown, was well attended on Monday. The refreshments and muses were of the highest order.

Marriages: Sept. 9, in this place, by Rev. B. H. Freeman, Solomon Rowe, of Lynchburg, Va., to Miss Maggie Samson, of this place.

Wedding Bells: Rev. A. A. Kelly, pastor of the Lutheran church near Mechanicsburg, and Miss Mary C. Bushman, of this place, were married at the home of the bride's parents on Baltimore street on Wednesday. The Rev. A. R. Steck, pastor of St. James Lutheran church, assisted by Rev. W. C. Wire, pastor of the Lutheran church, of Littlestown, performed the ceremony.

On Wednesday morning, Sept. 9, a pretty and quiet wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George L. H. Grammer, Philadelphia. The contracting parties were Miss S. Blanche Grammer and William D. Ernst, of Mt. Carmel, Rev. J. H. Main officiating.

Pennsylvania College: The annual opening of Pennsylvania College on Thursday, September 3rd, was one of the most encouraging in the history of the institution. The Freshman class numbers fifty-eight, and the Preparatory department starts with the same number. For the latter this is a high "water mark" in beginning this year, and for the former it has been only once excelled in the history of the college. According to custom the students gathered at 8 a. m. in Brna Chapel, where after appropriate and kindly words of greeting by President McKnight, Rev. E. D. Weigle, D.D., of Mechanicsburg, Pa., read the Scripture lesson, and Rev. J. A. Singmaster, D.D., of Allentown, Pa., offered prayer. A son of the former entered the Freshman class and a son of the latter, the Junior class. The professors made their usual announcements, and when it came to Prof. Klingner's turn, the new occupant of the Greek chair, a most cordial applause by the students greeted him.

On Friday evening, the Young Men's Christian Association of the college extended a formal welcome to the new students in Philo Hall.

The sixty-fifth annual opening of Pennsylvania College has been successful far beyond the expectation of her most sanguine friends. It was feared by many, that on account of recent Board action, there would be a great dropping out of old students, but no such thought have been realized.

Personal Mention: Mrs. Keller Culp, of Roncovert, Greenbrier county, W. Va., is visiting Mrs. Samuel Ridinger on South Washington street.

Miss Fannie Krise, of Baltimore, Md., was the guest last week of Miss Mamie Jacobs, Freedom township.

Miss Annie Kelle, of Freedom township, is very ill with typhoid fever.

Rev. D. W. Wood, Jr., of Lewis-town, filled the pulpit of the Presbyterian church on Sunday morning and evening and will, likewise, conduct both services next Sunday.

Today's Talk

FOR THE PURE PLEASURE ALONE

We all do too many things for money, for personal glorification, for the attention of others, and for social advantage. How very few of us do things for the pure pleasure of doing them—things that may not amount to much in themselves and which we could easily pay someone else to do—but thereby losing the joy of it all!

What a beautiful thing it is—just to take a vacation to oneself, to explore, and perhaps to discover something new about oneself, through the doing of some pleasurable thing. How little we know ourselves! How much brighter our lives would be, and how much more happiness we would experience, if we just went fun hunting more!

Each year at my summer camp I keep adding carpenter tools to my collection. Not because I wish to compete with any experienced artist at the trade, but just because I like to make things—things that I might well get along without, or which I could pay a carpenter to do for me—but then I would lose that thrill of the song of the plane, the exciting cut of the saw, and the glory of a completed job. There is no satisfaction in this world so heartwarming as the doing of something for the pure pleasure of having done it.

I recently stood and watched a woman knitting. I believe it was a sweater. I asked if she was making it for herself, and she said no: "Then for whom?" I asked. Her reply was that she did not know. But that she would probably give it to someone who needed it. But then she added: "I just love to knit!"

I never visit the studio of Hal Donahay, the Cleveland Plain Dealer cartoonist, without admiring the small caricatured models of figures that he has upon his shelves, which he had worked out from clay and wax from time to time, just for the fun of it. I have a picture of Winston Churchill, taken last Winter at Miami Beach, painting a picture at his easel, in the open air under a sapphire sky—all world problems dismissed—painting for the pure pleasure alone.

There are secrets of hidden joy for all of us, right inside of us, if we will but journey a little to discover them. The reward is that rare, pure pleasure that so many of us completely miss.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Without Paying."

Just Folks

'OUTA BOUNDS!'
I have heard the thousands booing when the umpire calls a strike.

Or he makes a close decision which the local fans don't like.

There's a note of glee derisive in the jeering of the throng.

When a football team is losing to another much too strong.

But, there's nothing quite so gleeful in the list of human sounds.

As the caddie's intonation when he's calling: "Outa bounds!"

I have heard it through the spring-time and the summer and the fall,
And for absolute derision I would choose that caddie call.

It has bitterness and malice and disgust; and, am I right,
If he doesn't like his player it is filled with pure delight?

He makes up for all he's suffered on a dozen earlier rounds.

As he shouts with inward pleasure, the announcement: "Outa bounds!"

There are folks who turn in laughter when a proud man takes a fall.

Let a lady lose her bonnet and it's fun for one and all.

At another man's misfortune many lookers-on will grin.

At the lake there's always laughter when somebody tumbles in.

But for unceasing derision, when his golf ball leaves the grounds,

Give me any player's caddie when he's shouting: "Outa bounds!"

GUARD PLANS MEMORIAL FOR ITS WAR DEAD

Harrisburg, Sept. 10 (AP)—A memorial service in honor of 33,054 Pennsylvanians who were World War two casualties will highlight the four-day annual encampment of the Pennsylvania Guard at the Indiantown Gap military reservation September 13-16.

The memorial exercises, set for Sunday, September 15, will follow a review of the guard officers of the new Pennsylvania National Guard and the Pennsylvania State Police. Governor Edward Martin and Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson will speak.

The encampment, which may be the final one for the military organization set up at the start of World War II to replace the federalized national guard, will bring approximately 1,600 officers and men to Indiantown.

The training will be directed by Brig. Gen. Frank A. Weber, deputy adjutant general, who succeeded to the command of the guard last May following the resignation of Maj. Gen. Milton G. Baker, its head during the war period.

Gettysburg Unit
Overall supervision of the encampment will be under Brig. Gen. Robert M. Vail, adjutant general. Guard units which will participate will include the 4th Infantry Regiment, commanded by Col. Clifford H. Bortz, of Allentown, and including units from Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Allentown, Lancaster, Chester, Bethlehem, Williamsport and Danville.

The 16th Infantry Regiment, headed by Col. Earle D. McCrea, of Oil City, and comprising units from Oil City, Corry, Meadville, Butler, Altoona, Clearfield, Bradford, Erie and Warren; and engineer battalions, special weapons companies and bands from Philadelphia and Pittsburgh and a mechanized troop from Gettysburg.

The guard members will receive training on the rifle, machine gun and pistol ranges, close order drills, maneuvers, bivouacs and field problems.

State Police Train
Coincidentally, some 300 officers of the new Pennsylvania National Guard, which will eventually replace the wartime guard, will arrive at the reservation Saturday, September 14 for two days of conferences with commanding general, Maj. Gen. E. J. Stackpole.

Approximately 550 state policemen at the same time will receive four days of intensive training under the direction of Col. C. M. Wilhelm, state police commissioner, in another part of the reservation. The remainder of the state constabulary will receive training September 18-21 at Indiantown.

In addition to the memorial services, the public will be admitted to a state police rodeo following the guard event Sunday, and dedication exercises at a new 85-acre lake on Monday, September 16.

Governor Martin will preside at the exercises at the lake which in addition to serving as a base for amphibious training of military units will be used as a public recreational area.

COURT UPHOLDS STRIP MINE LAW

Harrisburg, Sept. 10 (AP)—The Dauphin county court upheld the constitutionality Monday of the 1945 law placing strip mining in Pennsylvania's bituminous coal fields under state regulation.

Judge Karl E. Richards held in the court's opinion that the act, passed by the 1945 session of the General Assembly as a conservation measure, "is a proper exercise of the police power of the commonwealth."

The law, enacted after much controversy is the legislature, required operators, who mine coal through removing the surface with huge steam shovels, to obtain permits and post a bond to insure restoration of the surface after the coal has been mined.

Judge Richards dismissed the operators' bill of complaint but allowed the coal companies 10 days in which to file exceptions to the decision. They sought an injunction restraining state officials from enforcing the law.

Judge Richards told a reporter he believed the decision set a precedent. "It is probably the first time any state has attempted regulation of this type," the judge said.

Arthur H. Hull, one of the attorneys for the operators in the case, said they would examine the court's findings and then decide the question of an appeal to the State Supreme court.

AFL President Blames Government

Pittsburgh, Sept. 10 (AP)—Declaring the current maritime strike was caused by "governmental stupidity," William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, yesterday placed blame for the work stoppage on the Wage Stabilization Board.

State Sues For Loss Of Letterkenny Roads

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 10 (AP)—The Commonwealth Department of Highways has instituted a suit in federal court seeking more than $728,760 from the federal government in payment for the acquisition by the government of public roads and highways in Letterkenny, Greene and Hamilton townships, Franklin county.

The highways and roads, covering approximately 20,761 acres, were condemned by the government in 1943 for use as the Letterkenny ordnance depot. It was pointed out that by reason of the condemnation and acquisition of the roads by the government, the commonwealth sustained serious loss and damage, the amount of which has never been fixed by the government.

The state seeks to collect $728,760 together with compensation for delay in payment from March 11, 1943, at a rate of 6 per cent interest.

FULL SLATE FOR GOP IN MAINE; BOWLES TO RUN

(By The Associated Press)
Maine voters, re-electing a full slate of Republicans, sent the GOP off to a head start today in the battle for control of the new Congress.

In preliminary skirmishing for the November tests in the other states, nominating conventions or primaries were on today in Connecticut, Colorado, Louisiana and Rhode Island.

Chester Bowles, former OPA chief and stabilization director, made the political plunge in Connecticut, announcing his candidacy for the Democratic nomination as governor. His party holds its nominating convention next week. Republicans will name their candidate in convention today.

See Straws in Wind
Leaders of both major parties searched the results of Maine's Monday balloting—first postwar general election—for straws showing the way the political winds are blowing.

Senator Owen Brewster, Republican re-elected along with three House members of his party, called the outcome "most gratifying as indicating a continuance of the Republican trend."

Democrats noted, however, that their candidates showed greater strength on a percentage basis in some races than they did two years ago. For instance, Gov. Horace Hildreth, Republican, topped Democrat F. Davis Clark by 100,592 to 57,503 in incomplete returns whereas in 1944 Hildreth piled up a margin of 131,849 to 55,783 over Democrat J. Paul Julien.

Bowles became the third candidate bidding for the Democratic nomination as governor of Connecticut. Already in the race were Lt. Gov. Wilbert Snow and Thomas J. Dodd. Five candidates are seeking the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

that "here is an instance where responsibility for interlocking with transportation and production rests squarely with an agency of the government."

He told the convention that the AFL seamen's union negotiated pay increases during the period that the WSB—like the OPA—was not functioning and said that when the agency resumed its activities it refused to recognize the pay boosts.

COURT ORDER BRINGS STRIKE TO QUICK END

Pittsburgh, Sept. 10 (AP)—A court order, stressing the public interest and welfare, brought a quick end today—at least temporarily—to a strike of electric power employees which had threatened paralysis of an 87-square mile area embracing 1,500,000 people.

The order forbade any activities "which will imperil the lives, property, health and well being of the citizens."

Just as strikers were beginning to leave their posts to take up picket stations, Judge Walter P. Smart handed down the order directing the Independent Association of the Duquesne Light Co., to "rescind and recall any order declaring a strike." It enjoined the union from "interfering with the operation of any auxiliary equipment of Duquesne Light Co., the city of Pittsburgh or any other suppliers of power. It forbade picketing.

The order, directed against the company as well as the union, ordered officers and directors of the utility "to enter into bona fide negotiations with the independent association and to work out a sound and permanent labor policy which will prevent the recurrence of disputes between them and their workers." The company was told to "render adequate and continuous power."

Street Cars Quit
The city of Pittsburgh and its health director, Dr. I. Hope Alexander, petitioned for the injunction as business and industry were beginning to curtail operations in preparation for an emergency. Some 1,200 street cars left their routes to help save power.

Today, all was headed back toward normal, with street car service resuming in the early morning hours.

The court's order came dramatically at the hour the strike officially got under way—12:01 a.m., to enforce union demands for a master contract covering the nine operating companies associated with Duquesne, and a 20 per cent wage increase.

Hearing Friday
President George L. Mueller of the Union said he had postponed the strike on his own initiative in accordance with the court order, which directs the union and company representatives to a hearing Friday. The postponement, he said, was "until sometime after Friday."

Members of a strike committee to whom the postponement was referred, said approval was a formality. Mayor David L. Lawrence, haggard and worn from hours of labor as a volunteer mediator, took the case to the courts quickly after the union's general policy committee voted 42 to 9 just two hours before the strike deadline against submitting to the rank and file membership a company proposal to leave the problem to arbitration.

Power coursed through the circuits without interruption and lights gleamed throughout the night in the strike area.

AUTO HITS ABUTMENT
Waynesburg, Pa., Sept. 10 (AP)—An automobile accident near the Waynesburg Fair grounds yesterday killed Charles L. Beabout, 20, and injured David T. Funk, 22, of Washington, Pa. Their car crashed into a concrete bridge abutment.

A nationwide 50-city price tabulation shows the service station price of gasoline to average 20.21 cents a gallon, including an average tax of 6.05 cents.

Okinawa Vet Dies In Airplane Crash

Lebanon, Pa., Sept. 10 (AP)—A veteran of Okinawa was killed and his brother was seriously injured when a plane they had rented, crashed and burned Sunday on a nearby farm.

State Policeman John Lenker said the dead man was Allen B. Miller, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller of Lebanon, R. D. 4. Miller's 16-year-old brother, Ralph, who tried desperately to get Allen out of the plane, is confined to the Lebanon hospital with head injuries and a fracture of the left leg.

Cause of the crash, which apparently was not witnessed, was undetermined.

WILL CONSIDER CHURCH MERGER

Philadelphia, Sept. 10 (AP)—Clergymen from all parts of the world gathered here for the opening session of the 55th general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church in the U. S. A. today at Convention Hall.

Following the address by Rt. Rev. Henry St. George Tucker of Richmond, Va., presiding bishop of the church in this country, the delegates will begin work on the convention's program, topped by three major items:

1—Election of a presiding bishop to succeed Bishop Tucker who has reached the canonical age of retirement.

2—Proposal to merge the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A. and the Protestant Episcopal church in the U. S. A.—a step that would unite 4,195,000 Americans spiritually.

THE MATERNAL INSTINCT

Chapter 18

Lillie thought to herself grimly, "I counted on that," and stepped into the house, but in the hallway she got an unexpected glimpse of herself in a mirror, and she thought wildly, "I don't want to be Mrs. Henry Posey. I want to be Lillie O'Dell. I want to know this girl, to have her come see me. I never had Violet, but this girl and I could be friends. We could talk about Rodney, and about Violet. There will be no one to tell her about Violet." She caught her breath, and inside herself said coldly, "Be yourself, Lillie."

But when she left the house more than two hours later, she carefully avoided looking in the mirror. That way she could forget "Mrs. Henry Posey" and pretend that this girl knew Lillie O'Dell and that when she got to Bradford City, she would know her and talk to her about Rodney, and Lillie would tell her about Violet.

Halfway home, Lillie opened the window of her room and looked out at the blue felt hat, and felt a vicious satisfaction in knowing that the suction of the train had carried it under the wheels to be ground to pieces.

When she got home, she went first to have her hair waved, then she went to see August Bradford. "You can relax," she said when she sat down beside his desk. "I've been to see Rodney's wife. I spent a whole afternoon with her. We got quite chummy over a cup of tea." She looked at August Bradford and smiled a rather mischievous smile. "Which means she talked and I listened."

August Bradford leaned toward her. "When I do that, you, I wanted to ask you to do that, I couldn't. I had to rely on your understanding now as in the past. Tell me, is she...?" He fumbled around for words and finished lamely, "Alright for Rodney?"

"We couldn't have done better," Lillie answered, "if we had picked her ourselves. She does look like Violet." She stopped talking, remembering for a moment the shock she had received when Peg-Ann had opened the door for her, the aching, tearing force of it.

"But except for the remarkable resemblance," Lillie went on determinedly, "she is not at all like Violet. She's a lady, yes. But she has purpose. She knows what she wants in this world, and she's going to get it."

Lillie flipped her hand carelessly in the gesture that all Bradford knew. "Now don't get me wrong. She isn't a gold-digger. She isn't after money. But she knows the kind of life she wants and she's going to have it."

Lillie looked at him quizzically for a moment, as if to gauge how much he could take. "She has some new-fangled ideas about business and labor and such things."

August Bradford grunted. "I guess we can take that in our stride. Where does she get them?"

"I'd say," Lillie answered, "from dragging her family out of the depression and poverty by their bootstraps. She's not a Southern girl; her family comes from Michigan. Her father lost his job some years ago when the refused to join a sit-down strike for which he felt there was no justification. The union expelled him and he was never able to get a decent job after that."

August Bradford nodded, and Lillie leaned toward him. "But do you know what one brother who was almost through college is going to be? A union organizer. Peg-Ann says it's time the unions were taken out of the hands of racketeers and run by trained business men who know what it's all about. When he gets out of the Army, he is going back to school to finish his course."

"Umph," August Bradford said. "On my money."

Lillie shook her head. "Oh, no. On his G.I. benefits, and, maybe, Rodney's money. Remember his mother left him a trust fund that he gets when he's twenty-five."

Mr. Bradford nodded, and Lillie said, "Peg-Ann says that is enough for them, and that if you... There was a bit of suppressed delight in the smile Lillie gave him. "If you interfere too much with Rodney's and her life, they will use that as a stake to start out for themselves, but she rather hopes you won't because she doesn't want Rodney to shirk any of his responsibilities to his family, to the workmen in the mills, or to the city."

"So!" August Bradford exclaimed. "She's a go-getter, Mr. Bradford. She put herself through college; moved the whole family south when her father's health began to fail."

"She kept Rodney straight down there apparently," Lillie said. "Prodded him through O.C.S. because she says he had the makings of a good officer but he liked to play. Then she married him before he went overseas—without meeting his family as she would like to have done—so that Rodney would have something to hold to, something that would keep him from being reckless, and would bring him home."

Mr. Bradford cleared his throat, and Lillie said quietly, "She isn't at all like his mother. But she loves Rodney above everything and she has purpose and determination and backbone to go after what she wants and she will fight for those she loves."

August Bradford got up and came around the desk and stood looking down at Lillie. "In other words, Mrs. O'Dell," he said gently, "she's just like you."

"What do you mean?" she asked, and choked on the words. She got to her feet, but August Bradford took her hands firmly in his. "You're a very fine woman, Lillie O'Dell. His grip on her hands was so tight that it hurt. "I've never thanked you for all you've done for us—"

He smiled rather grimly. "Not for us—for Violet and for Rodney—we just reaped the benefits. I feel as though we've been partners in an important enterprise, and all I can say is that I've never had a partner for whom I had as much respect, or affection."

They stood silently, looking at each other steadily. Then August Bradford dropped her hands.

"You're a very fine woman, Lillie O'Dell," he said again. "You would have made a very good mother. It's a pity you had no children. You should have had several."

"Me?" Lillie laughed. "Me? Why I haven't a particle of maternal instinct."

Movie Distributors Sue Two Theatres

Pittsburgh, Sept. 10 (AP)—Damage suits against two New Castle motion picture exhibitors were filed in federal court yesterday by five movie distributors who charged false reports had been made on admissions.

Three of the suits were filed by Warner Brothers Pictures, United Artists Corp., and the 20th Century-Fox Film Corp., all of New York City, against David Victor, operating the Victor theater in New Castle.

The other suits were filed by Columbia Pictures Corporation and Universal Film Exchanges, both of New York City, against Speer Marousis, operating the Regent theatre in New Castle.

The suits contended the exhibitors used a plan to defraud the distributors by submitting false and inaccurate written statements of gross admission receipts.

Hot Weather Helps Late Corn Mature
Harrisburg, Sept. 10 (AP)—The recent warm weather that has gripped Pennsylvania was expected to help mature late corn, fruit, and some vegetables.
Miles Horst, state Secretary of Agriculture, said yesterday "continued warm weather should prevent losses to vegetables from frost damage." He estimated that killing frosts would arrive in most sections of the state between September 20 and 30.
"Beets and cabbage are in good supply, celery and lima beans are growing well despite recent cool weather, but cucumbers were hit by blight and sweet corn yields are not up to expectations," declared Horst.
Japan's literacy rate is the world's highest—97 per cent.

YORK FAIR TOPS ALL
There is only one York Inter-State Fair and it may be enjoyed only once in a year. That is what makes this year's York Fair dates important; they are Tuesday to Saturday, September 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14.
OUTSTANDING ATTRACTIONS
Day and night on each of these days there will be presented the greatest variety of entertainment ever offered York Fair patrons, with special features of international vaudeville, radio and screen programs.
Throughout the week there will be a wealth of farm exhibits such as only Southeastern Pennsylvania can provide. Wartime restrictions are off and exhibitors and concessionaires will engage in friendly rivalry for the attention of the many thousands of visitors.
VARIETY OF ENTERTAINMENT
Jimmy Strates' mammoth shows and rides will be a mile long, day and night, gay midway features. Before the Grandstand there will be four days of harness and running races, and, daily, afternoon and night, the most costly array of stage specialties, the York Fair Management has ever engaged.
SPECTACULAR REVUE
Each night Frank Wirth's brilliant all-girl Broadway Revue will entertain Grandstand patrons.
Wednesday night following a well established custom there will be an outstanding international radio and screen program. GUY LOMBARD ORCHESTRA
A super-feature will be Guy Lombardo's World Renowned Dance Band. It will appear on the program afternoon and night, Friday, September 13th.
The special added attraction for Saturday afternoon and night will be a nationally known, breath-taking automobile thrill show.
MANY IMPROVEMENTS
Visitors to the York Inter-State Fair this year will note many improvements. The Main Building, always a center of attraction, has been thoroughly modernized. In every respect this is an up-to-date Fair, sparing no expense to provide added comfort and convenience for its patrons. Though the cost of living is up, there has been no increase in prices of admission or Grandstand seats. Better make Grandstand reservations early.
TOPS ALL EASTERN FAIRS
The York Inter-State Fair has everything! It is a World's Fair at your own back door. In this year of peace it aims to be an occasion of reunion, recreation and holiday.—Adv.
